Four Corners with Relationship Development

Instructions

Step 1. Identify an individual or group that you identified in your pre-work.

Step 2. Choose one of the categories that represents where you are in terms of relationship development with the individual/group you identified in Step 1.

Nascent I am trying to connect with and/or initially get to know them.	Developing I have an initial connection with them and am hoping to deepen it.
Sustaining I am well-connected with them and looking to level-up for the long haul.	Closing I am in the process of ending this relationship.

Step 3: In a small group with others who chose the same category, discuss the following questions:

a. Why did you choose this relationship stage?

b. List some words that you might use to describe this relationship stage.

c. What activities, tactics, or strategies are you using during this stage to work together?

d. What challenges are you facing in this stage of the relationship?
