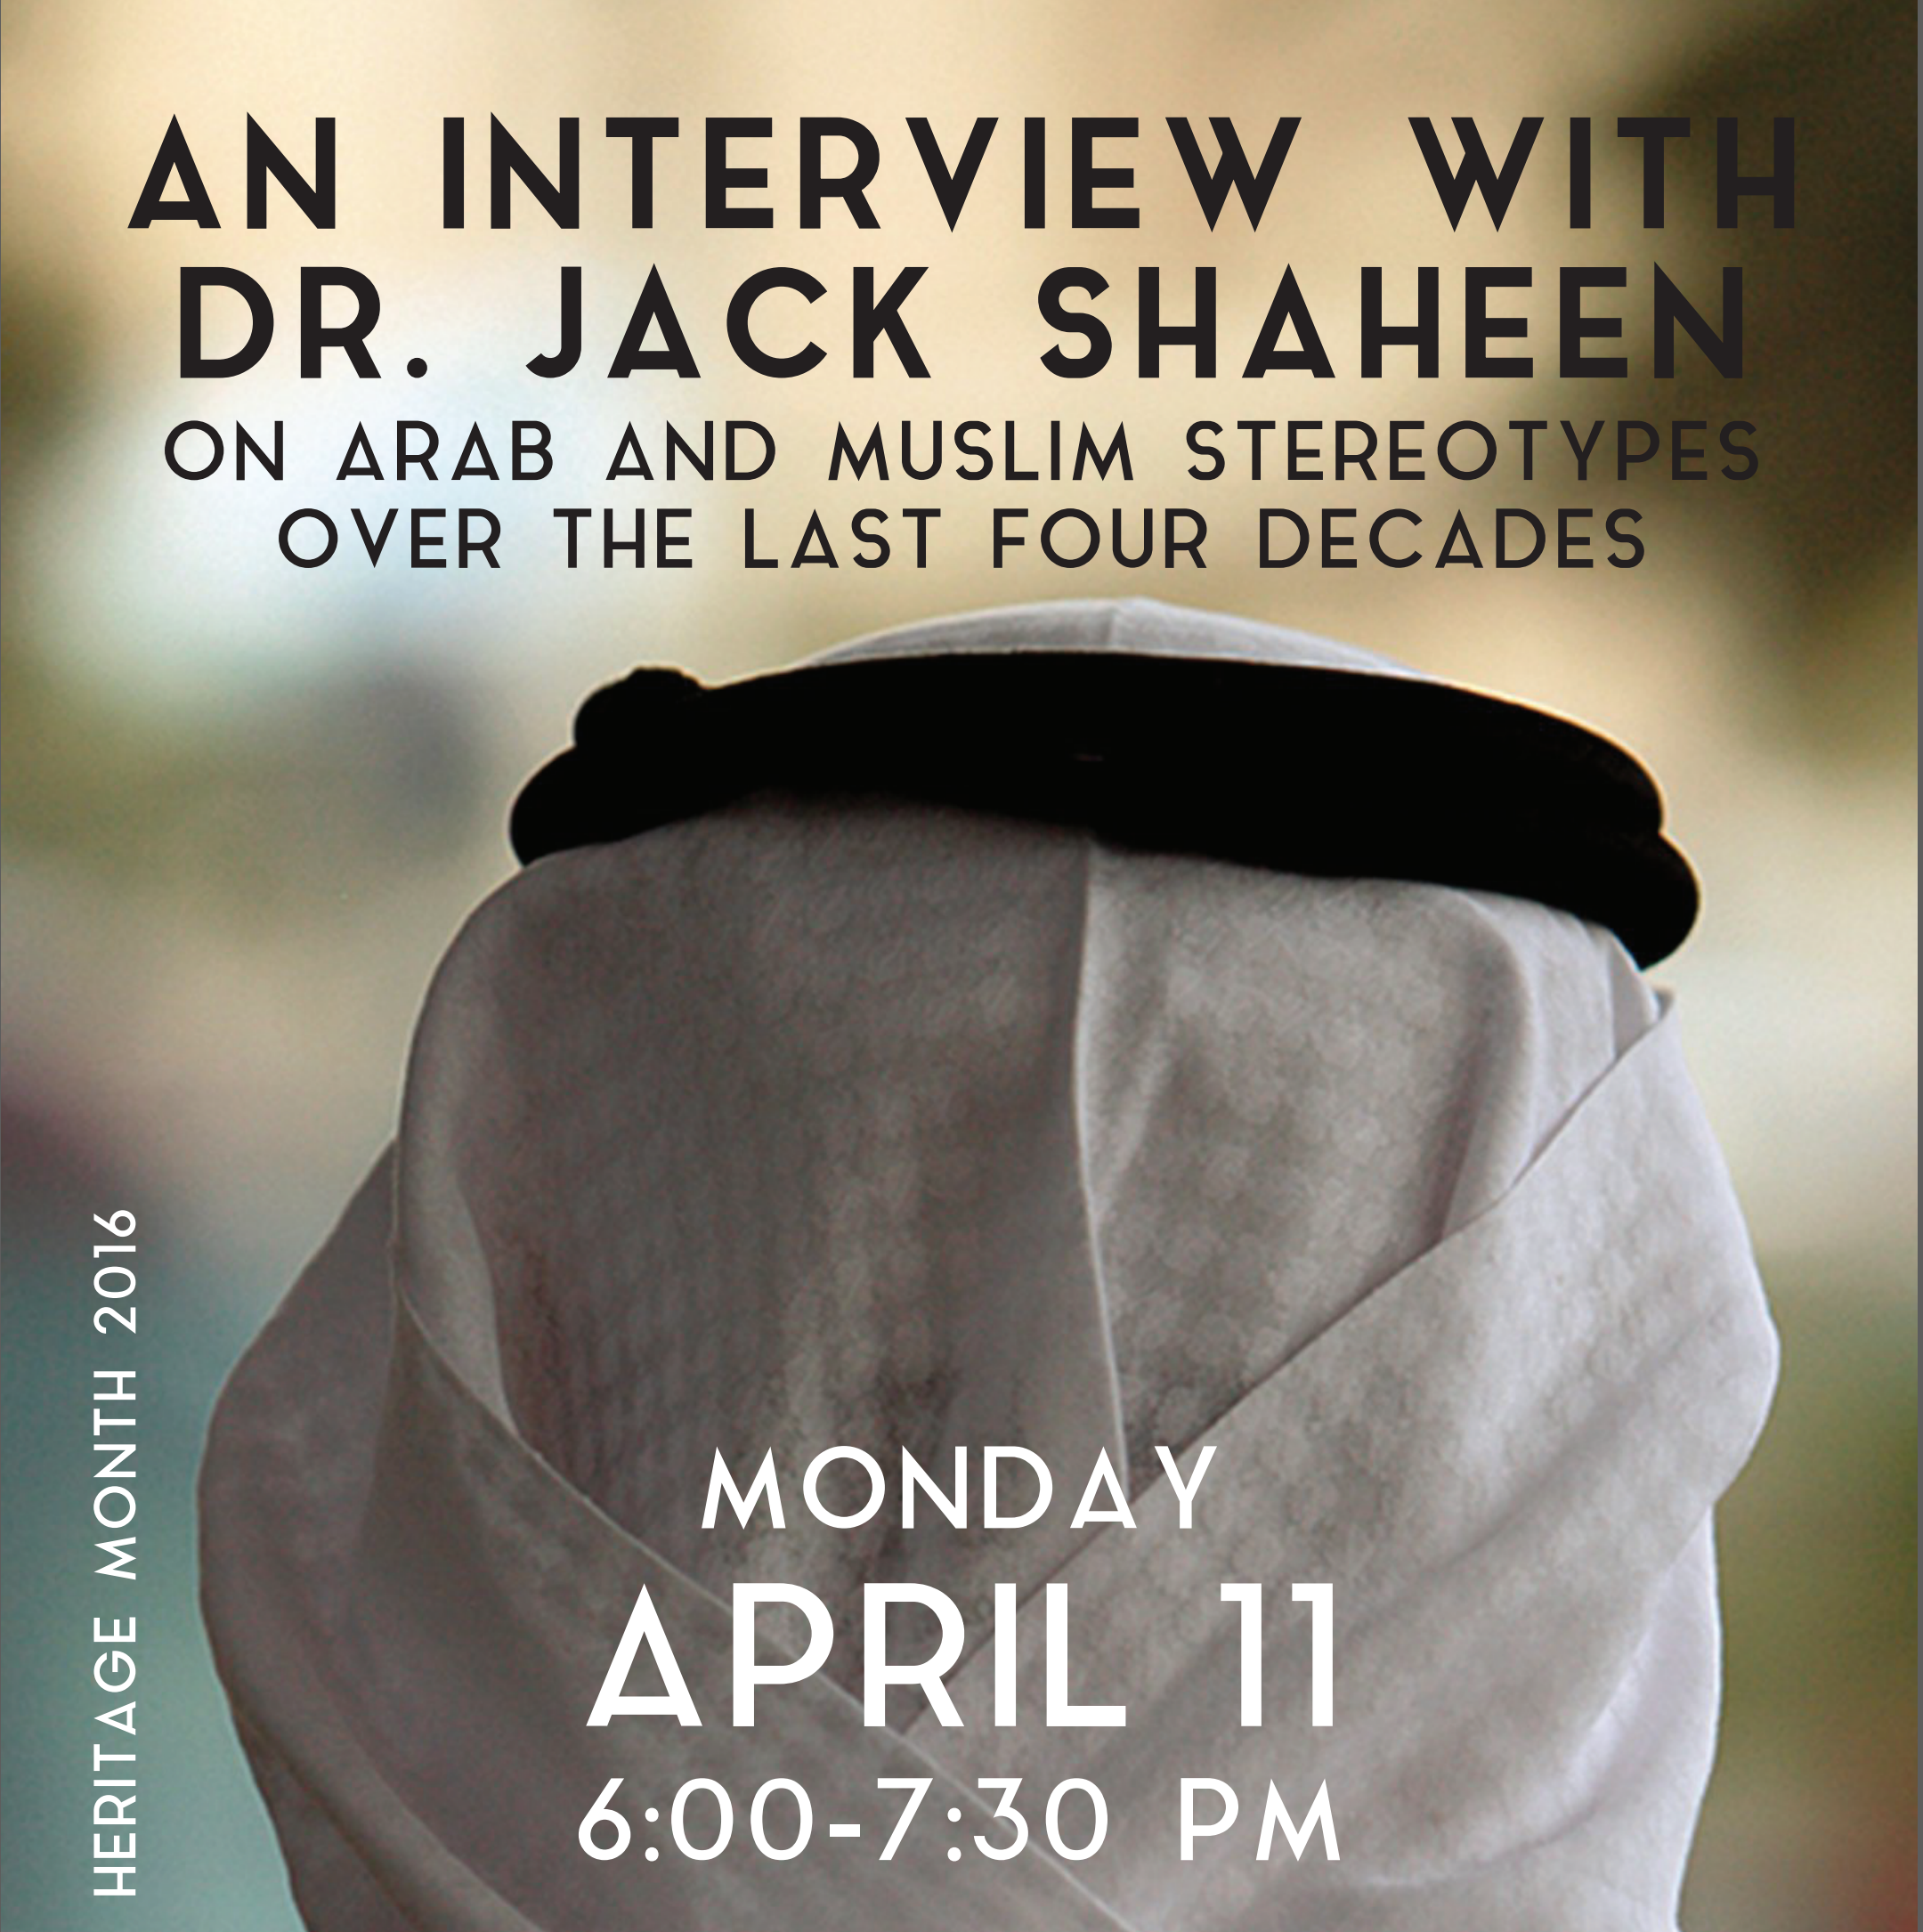
AN INTERVIEW WITH DR. JACK SHAHEEN

ON ARAB AND MUSLIM STEREOTYPES OVER THE LAST FOUR DECADES



MONDAY

APRIL 11

6:00-7:30 PM

HATCHER LIBRARY GALLERY

RECEPTION TO FOLLOW LECTURE

Dr. Jack Shaheen has been studying representations of Arabs and Muslims in the U.S. media since the 1970s. Shaheen is renowned worldwide for his lectures and published work, which illustrate the damaging consequences of stereotyping of Arabs and Muslims. Over the last four decades, Shaheen has collected and analyzed materials that depict Arabs and Muslims as the "godless cultural other."

AC80

DEPARTMENT OF AMERICAN CULTURE
LSA ARAB AND MUSLIM AMERICAN STUDIES
UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN

Cosponsoed by:
The Office of Multi-Ethnic Student Affairs, Islamic Studies Program, Screen Arts and Cultures, and Communication Studies.

THIS EVENT IS PART OF ARAB HERITAGE MONTH 2016