Beginning today, polls open for Central Student Government elections. The polls will remain open for 48 hours. As the overarching body for student representation, CSG affects student life from countless facets including student organization funding, advocating to University administration, and providing important resources to students. As students of color, we are often not given a seat at the table — but this election gives us a chance to reclaim that. Below is a list of the students of color running for President and Vice President and respective school Representatives. We, as students of color, should back one another as we aim to create a more equitable campus that respects and supports marginalized communities.
