Salaam, everyone!

U-M's Center for Middle East and North African Studies (CMENAS) and the Center for Southeast Asian Studies (CSEAS) are seeking your help. The centers will collaboratively put on a workshop about Islam in June 2019. The workshop's target audience will be Grade K-12 teachers with little knowledge of the basics and complexity of Islam as experienced in the Middle East and Southeast Asia.

One goal of the workshop is to highlight the human, personal, and local aspects of Islam. We need your help in finding a diverse representation of Muslims from the Middle East and from Southeast Asia to speak to the teacher participants at the workshop. (We want teachers to learn that Muslims are just as normal, ordinary, and complex as they are.)

Please write to me directly if you know any community members who would be open to speaking to teachers about their lives, practices, and faith as Middle Eastern or Southeast Asian Muslims in our area. We respect concerns of being "on show" or of carrying the burden of representing Muslims at large, and will design and deliver the workshop with the utmost respect and care. I am happy to address these concerns personally.

Thank you for your insight, everyone, and I look forward to hearing from you!

Hey all!

Please see the forwarded email. If any of you are Muslim identifying and will be around in June this would be a great educational opportunity.

All the best,

Silan
