

Direct Composite Techniques Made Easy

Dr. Paul Belvedere

Dr. Paul Belvedere is an internationally renowned teacher, lecturer, innovator, and inventor.

Considered by many to be the "Father of Posterior Composites," Dr. Belvedere is the originator of the two-light trans-enamel or "through-the-tooth" polymerization for the control of shrinkage in posterior composites.

He is an adjunct professor at the University of Minnesota School of Dentistry. When he is not teaching, he maintains a private practice in general, cosmetic and sport's dentistry, giving him the credibility of "practicing what he preaches."

Don't miss this opportunity to learn composite techniques from one of the true leaders in the field.

The University of Michigan would like to express our appreciation to the following organizations for support of this course:

- Axis Dental Corporation

First Annual Arnold P. Morawa Endowed Lectureship

The Morawa Lectureship was created in 2000 to honor Dr. Arnold Morawa at the time of his retirement from the U of M School of Dentistry after 34 years of dedicated service.

The Lectureship will be used to attract a first-rate scholar/lecturer to Ann Arbor on an annual basis to present a comprehensive continuing dental education course.

After earning four degrees from the U of M, Dr. Morawa had a distinguished career combining the rigors of a pediatric dentistry practice with a strong commitment to dental education, research, and service.

Dr. Morawa served the profession of dentistry passionately and he had a positive influence on students, faculty, staff, patients, and alumni at the School of Dentistry.

He was Assistant Dean for Alumni Relations and Continuing Dental Education at the time of his retirement, so this lectureship in his honor is a most fitting tribute.
