)ear Representative Knollenberg:

am writing to thank you for cosponsoring H.R. 1400, the Iran Counter-Proliferation Act of 2007.

Time is running out to stop Iran—the leading state sponsor of terrorism—from acquiring a nuclear weapons capability.

With Iran continuing to defy the international community's demands to suspend its nuclear activities, his critical legislation aims to increase economic and political pressure on Iran to persuade Tehran to nd its atomic arms program. The bill closes loopholes in existing sanctions law, strengthens U.S. tools o cut off funds to Iran's nuclear program and prohibits U.S. nuclear cooperation with those aiding ran's atomic efforts.

'assage of this legislation will make a definitive statement about the American people's desire to nsure that our country is doing everything possible—through non-military means—to end activities by hose countries and entities that are helping Iran pursue nuclear weapons.

Thank you again for your support of this critical legislation.

Sincerely,

Zalman Kohen
