APRIL 6, 2017 | 4:30 PM–6:00 PM
RACKHAM AUDITORIUM

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN BICENTENNIAL

Reception to follow.
Free and open to the public.

Former U-M Presidents Harold T. Shapiro, James J. Duderstadt, Lee C. Bollinger and Mary Sue Coleman will join President Mark Schlissel in a conversation about the future of Michigan and higher education.

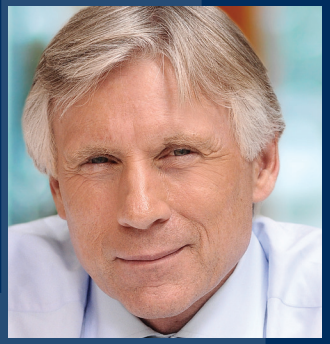

The discussion is a feature of the President's Bicentennial Colloquium, "The Evolving Bargain between Research Universities and Society." If research universities are one of the principal glories of the American system of higher education, they nevertheless have perpetually had a complex relationship with the society for which they are — in President Shapiro's words — both "servant and critic." The ambition of the conversation is to take stock of the current state of this never simple, ever evolving bargain.
